

A Window Into Way

Making Our Thinking Visible

“Michigan Wonders” - Using the Questions Starts thinking routine to launch into the study of our great state, allowed us to take note of what our students were wondering about and where their interests in geography lie. As we continue to study Michigan’s geography, many of these questions will be explored and many more questions will arise. We will also use this opportunity to examine how to compose generative and genuine questions that take us deeper in our understanding.
